the Plan on other campuses throughout the country.

This year, Alpha Delta Phi, and the six other interested fraternities here chose the country from which they desired a student. Through the Institute of International Education in New York in cooperation with our administration, we made our choices. The "Delts", for one, didn't make a mistake.

Mike had completed two years at the Ecole Superieure de Commerce de Paris when the war caught up with him. He spent two and one-half years with le premier batallion du Regiment de marche du Tchad, of the Second Armored French Division, fighting in France, Germany, and Indo-China. He had an excellent service record, and received the Croix de Guerre, Presidential Unit Citation, Medaille Coloniale, Medaille de la Croix Rouge Francaise, and the Medaille Commemorative. To top it off, Mike was given an extra year's credit in his school in France in appreciation for his service to his country.

Here at Union, he is taking Accounting, Money and Banking, English, and Public Speaking. According to Mike, "It is enough." His comprehension of English is rapidly improving, and to say the least, we are pleased with our French goodwill ambassador.

It is a pleasure to have Herman as our guest and may his stay here be a pleasant one. The proceeds from the annual mid-winter weekend will go to the Phi Delt rebuilding fund.

There are three members of the Sophomore class that were pledged last year too late for our initiation. These three men are Stuart R. McAllester of Snyder, N.Y.; Alfred W. Meneely of Princeton, N.J., and Hanford A. Salmon of Oneida, N.Y.

with congenial brews, sang and re-sang all the old songs. The night was danced and sung and talked away. Old faces were seen, old stories reiterated, old and new hands were clasped in handshakes and gradually the kegs were drained dropless.

The early hours of Sunday saw our Lady conclude her social and fraternal activity with an expression of drowsy satisfaction upon her countenance. Just before somnolence completely enveloped her, she thought how pleasant it was to have had the company of so many old friends—if only more would drop in.

others in the past. This was due chiefly to the hard work of the Co-chairmen of the House Party Committee, Bart Harris and Dick Williams, and their committeemen. Everybody knows that it takes a lot of pains to put on a good party, and those two did an excellent job.

Brother Kline is past president of the Amsterdam Chamber of Commerce, New York Associated Dailies and the New York Press Association.
