Werner now holds seven records, while Chris shows great promise in breast and backstroke.

Spen Warnick '52½ has been the Chapter's intramural Sports Director and has generally managed to keep the ranks of the House teams adequately filled. Basketball and volleyball were led by Chuck Herman '52, Dick Munro, Gari Clough, Fred Davies, Bob Shorter '53, Ben Thelin, Tony DeBello, Arne Ellermets '54, Doug Williams '54, John Brown '55, and Pledge Bob Albrecht '55. Bill O'Brien '55 won for the House the I-M free-style swimming event.

Don Smitheman, '52-aspirant, whose address has been changed to Fort Dix, N.J., is doubtless also participating in many athletic activities, but of more of a self-surviving nature.

Tom Odell '52 has seen active service this year as Secretary of the Student Council. This group has just held elections, and Ben Thelin was reelected. Jerry Frank '55 held down a membership in that society last term. Co-editor of the yearbook 'Garnet' is Al Scott '53, who has been scratching his head and the phone dial in an effort to keep things rolling. Scotty is also putting in time on the golf squad. Charlie Vest '54, now relieved of his job as House-Steward, may find more time for his presidency of the Photography Club. Pledge Neil Finch '55 is pioneering in a new direction for House activities, as an avid member of the Flying Club. Watch out for the Air Force, Neil! Rumor has it that Bob Clendinning '53 is preparing to move into the Chem Lab to keep up with the strenuous life of a test tube jockey. Ah, sweet mystery of Life! John Boardman '54 is the Chapter's IFC delegate, and has been struggling with the problems of the new rushing regulations. To Dave Williams '54, number two of his class to drop his pin, goes envy or jeers (you choose) from the bachelors, congratulations from his predecessors.

The Social aspect of the House activities has been adequately maintained by Dock Donohoe, Bill Grenzbach, Jim Hannan, and Ron Jacobs, all '53, who are finding hot competition along various lines in Frank Hannan and Dick Rubin, both '55.

Let us not forget the one with perhaps the greatest activity, that of steering the House through the Spring '52 term. To Dick Genthner '52, soon to be enjoying a Gandy Dancers' Ball on the Pennsy, goes a unanimous 'well-done' for his successful efforts in the Chapter's behalf.

ANON.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

This school year could be summed up as follows: Never has so much been done with so little money. This fall, the Brothers did an excellent job redecorating the bar, and are about to undertake the painting of the front porch and eventually the entire front of the house. With alumni help, which was solely responsible for repairing three couches, the house has managed to stay in good shape physically, despite the fact that financially we have been just getting by and nothing more.

While the House began the year with $500.00 surplus, it was also faced with a $500.00 tax, one third of the total amount which the city of Schenectady saw fit to levy on the fraternity. As a result, the surplus money circulated rather freely for awhile, but by the end of the school year, it will have accumulated again, and all outstanding obligations will have been met. The brothers have done very well in keeping down expenses, and pay an average of $90. a month to keep the house operating. But, only 16 of the 30 brothers in the House pay this full amount, as some have part time jobs, and the freshmen are not permitted by the college to eat in the house. As a result, the money which the brothers pay to cover their social functions, which are an integral part of college life, is, of necessity, being used to make up this deficit and is contributed toward the upkeep of the house. The alumni generously contributed toward the initiation banquet, and with a combined effort of both the active members and the alumni, there is no reason why the house
